

A Proud Member of AIG Advisor Group

For nearly half a century, Royal Alliance has been home to and an empowering force for top-producing advisors who are intensely motivated and fiercely independent. We offer a unique culture that is defined by relationships based on mutual trust, loyalty and integrity and we provide the resources that generate success.

Genuine Autonomy Royal Alliance delivers authentic independence by creating an environment that is carefully crafted to be flexible enough to address your needs and yet powerful enough to take you to the next level of success in your practice.

OSJ Office Support We are proud of our role as industry leaders in supporting high-producing offices and hard-working advisors that have chosen to embrace a collaborative approach to doing business, including partnering with them in recruiting and marketing.

Adaptable Technologies We design and deliver technology solutions based on the valued input of the advisors we serve. This collaboration ensures that these systems will provide streamlined efficiencies and improved profitability for your practice.

Open Architecture Flexibility is one of our cornerstones and that's why we are a broker-dealer designed to conform to the vision you have for your practice rather than making you adapt to ours. Our goal is to enhance and expand everything you bring to the table.

Compensation & Rewards With one of the highest payouts in the industry, we back up the commitment we have for hard-working advisors through our compensation packages as well as special recognition, benefits, rewards and exclusive events at premier destinations. We take care of our advisors.

Diverse Product Options We know that you work hard for your clients to ensure that they can reach their financial goals. That's why we provide thousands of investment options from premier firms along with world-class research and access to elite sponsor support.

With an average tenure of 10.4 years and a 97% retention rate, Royal Alliance has been serving advisors nationwide for nearly 50 years. We invite you to consider the many benefits of affiliating with our team.
